We are confident of providing the best representation to clients to ensure a permanent residence visa solution while setting them up for long-term success in New Zealand.

Whether that means moving permanently, later retirement, succession planning, operating a business or making further investments, purchasing a holiday home or visiting for recreation and activities, we have the knowledge and connections to provide a bespoke and proven client experience.

Lane Neave provides an all-encompassing service that includes immigration as a first stage, with lawyers across all services who are fluent in Mandarin, Cantonese and Japanese. This means we can help with:

- investment due diligence

- corporate/commercial
- general property and conveyancing
- banking and finance
- wills and estate planning
- overseas investment regulatory advice.

Our goal is to meet all your New Zealand legal needs by developing a long-term working relationship built on trust and first-class service. Immigration is typically just the start of our working relationship. We aim to continue providing legal services well after the immigration-related investment term ends.

Let us connect you

To streamline all aspects of the process, we connect our clients to other appropriate service providers – all of whom are leaders in their respective fields.

We do not receive commissions for referrals to investment firms or managed funds, and we do not manage or place investments for our clients. This ensures our approach to market is best practice and ethical, because it is free of remuneration-based conflicts of interest.
